Are you ready to find out who the BOSS is? Join Splunk and Epoch for our famous Boss of SOC (BOTS) competition. This blue team capture the flag-esque competition is taking place on Wednesday, September 14th (9:00am - 1:00pm MST – Competition times)

Played individually or in teams of up to four, BOTS requires participants to pivot through realistic data sets using Splunk Enterprise and the entire Splunk product portfolio. Over four hours, you will race the clock (and other analysts), hunt adversaries in Splunk Enterprise and Splunk security products, and try out new data sources like Windows event data and network data. All while trying to earn eternal bragging rights to the world and your peers or maybe, just enjoy the journey and fun along the way. Must bring your laptop to participate.
